ANTI VICE GROUP FIGHTS "BOOZE" WITH SONG AND PRAYER

Larry Scharff Selected For Lions All State Band

Observations...

By the Editor

The annual Church Fair for the benefit of St. Claire's Church of Waveland will be held on the Church grounds Saturday and Sunday, June 30 and July 1.

The Bay St. Louis-Hancock Library is in need of a copy of the Saturday Evening Post of March 31, 1951. If you have this copy, and if you have no further need for it, will you send it to the library, or give the librarian a call by ringing 448, and it will be picked up.

The quota for Hancock County for the American Red Cross was $4700.00, up to this time, the total receipts of the drive have reached $4200.00, according to A. C. Mitchell, Hancock County Chairman. The quota is still $500 short of the needed figure. If you have not contributed as yet, won't you please do so? The Red Cross, as we have said on many occasions, is a great humanitarian cause. Of course, its affairs are handled by human beings, and surely mistakes will be made. Some folks may not feel kindly to this cause because of the action of some person or persons having different opinion with them about what may have been a worthy cause. Nevertheless, we cannot overlook the fact that the good done by this organization will far outweigh any of the shortcomings of some individual who may not have seen eye to eye with you in some matter. So, won't you get your contribution in to Mr. Mitchell or to any one of his many committee members.

Our comment last week about mixing politics into the School System, brought several inquiries, if we were referring to the Bay St. Louis Schools. Of course not, the officials in Bay St. Louis keep out of the School affairs. They let these matters strictly in the hands of the trustees.

O. B. Loper, candidate for State Highway Commissioner was in town Tuesday, shaking hands and getting acquainted. "Red" could pass for "Slim" Gilmore's twin brother. Not related, however. Asked O. B. what he thought of the toll bridge, he promptly answered that toll bridges were obsolete 25 years ago, and if they were then, they certainly should be now.

We want you to read the article we are carrying this week, a reprint from the PICAYUNE ITEM, of the visit of Preachers in the upper part of Hancock County and the lower part of Pearl River County to certain establishments in the upper part of Hancock County, near the Pearl River County line. Many more visits by the Preachers, and the boys are going to be out of business. Their main support comes from Pearl River County, and the folks up there just don't like to have their Preachers finding them in Juke Joints. We believe the Preachers have a better method than injunctions. If the folks don't patronize them they will go out of business of their own volition. And by the way, the Preachers say they saw slot machines. Weren't injunctions issued against practically all of these places prohibiting them from operating slot machines? Wonder why they have them out in public? Well, the Sheriff doesn't seem to have any regard for court orders, so why should the individual? Perhaps Judge Russell may make some one feel that his orders are not a joke.

CORRECTION

In the publication of the March Minutes of the Board of Supervisors in our issue of April 27, an error was made in the allowances of Road and Bridge Maintenance Fund No. 3. The published copy showed "Vollis Ladner, 20 days patrol $140.00." The allowance to Vollis Ladner was for 80 hours labor at 40 cents an hour—a total of $32.00. (Signed) The Editor.

Larry Scharff, 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Scharff of Bay St. Louis, has been selected, on the basis of his superior showing at the tryouts, as a member of the 1951 Lions All State Band.

George L. Cuevas Is A Candidate In Coming Election

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of George L. Cuevas for Supervisor, Beat 5, Hancock County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held August 7, 1951.

To the People of Beat 5, Hancock County, Mississippi. I am taking this means of making my announcement for the Office of Board of Supervisor of Beat 5, Hancock County, Mississippi.

I am 60 years old, I am married and living in Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi, having spent the greater part of my life here. I received my education at Sellers School, Sellers, Mississippi, Perkinson Junior College, Perkinson, Mississippi, and South Business College, New Orleans, Louisiana.

I taught school in the Public Schools of Hancock County for one year, and from there, I went to work for the Weston Lumber Company as their Bookkeeper for a period of 14 years. In 1926, I left the Weston Lumber Company and went into business for myself operating a Men's and Women's Ready to Wear Shop until 1931. In 1931, I entered the race for Tax Assessor and was elected in the August Primary for a term of four years. At the end of four years I offered myself for re-election and the people of Hancock County honored me again to the Office of Tax Assessor in the Second Primary for another four year term, and each time thereafter I was elected in the First Primary, serving in the Office of Tax Assessor until 1948.

I did not offer myself for re-election of 1947 for Tax Assessor. I offered myself instead for the Office of Clerk of Courts. And not being elected to the office of the Clerk of Courts, I finished my administration in the Office of Tax Assessor and have been employed with the Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Association of Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi since March, 1948 in the position of Secretary and Treasurer.

In offering myself as candidate for the Office of Board of Supervisor of Beat 5, Hancock County, Mississippi, I am well aware and fully understand the responsibilities that go with that important office, having had 32 years experience in the same.

Theatre To Hold Tryouts May 15

Plans for the "Silver Whistle" will start with a try-out Tuesday, May 15, at 8:00 p. m. at the playhouse. The play is the forthcoming selection of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, scheduled for the latter part of June.

Never has a play offered such an advantage to those who feel intimidated because of a few added years. The script is comprised of five women, only one of whom is younger than fifty-five; and ten men, most of who are passed middle age.

Four women are needed from 60 to 65 years; one woman about 45 or forty; four men in their sixties; one man about 40, two men in their late thirties or early forties and three men of varying ages for minor parts.

"The Silver Whistle" is a delightful comedy, which is enjoying a successful run in theatre circles throughout the country. Plans to make it into a movie are in progress.

The play will be under the direction of Mrs. J. William Hill, Jr.

It is not necessary to be a member of the theatre in order to take part; active helpers are always welcome to the group and are urged to come out and try for a part in this interesting comedy.

Ministers, Laymen Visit Five Juke Joints Just Beyond Hancock County Line

Prayer and sacred hymns took the place of the traditional guns and badges in combating lawlessness the past weekend, when a group of ministers and laymen visited six taverns in Hancock County, just a few miles from Picayune, Pearl River County. Saturday night the fourteen clergymen and their supporters walked calmly into the dram shops known as Whitfield's, Shorty's Place, Mutt's Place, the County Line, Candlelight and a negro juke joint. They sang hymns and did evangelistic preaching, a complete service as surprised proprietors and patrons alike gaped in awe. But someone "re-wrote" the script for Sunday night. When the pastors and laymen returned, they were met with open hostility and objections.

Rev. C. E. James, publicity chairman for the newly formed anti-vice group, told the ITEM that it is the purpose of the organization to "eliminate vice which is flourishing along Highway 11, south of Picayune and in Picayune itself."

Theodore Thomas States Candidacy For Beat 5 Office

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of Theodore Thomas for Supervisor, Beat 5, Hancock County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held August 7, 1951.

To the Voters of Beat No. Five. In the Democratic Primary election to be held in August 1951, I shall be a candidate for the office of Supervisor of Beat 5, Hancock County.

I was born and reared in Bay St. Louis and graduated from Bay High School. After attending Pearl River College for one year, I entered the Air Force in September, 1941. I am 32 years of age; am married, and have five children.

I desire to help in giving the county better roads, a completely renovated seaway, improved drainage, and the type of hospital facilities that its citizens need and deserve.

It is my intention to make a complete canvass of Beat 5 before election day. Should I fail to see any voter before then, I ask him or her to check my record as a citizen and business man, by asking about me or who has had dealings with me in business. In my opinion, it is time for a younger and active man, with a desire to develop by helping his community develop, to be given a chance to serve as Supervisor of Beat 5.

Respectfully submitted, THEODORE THOMAS.

example to all his Priests over 1900 years ago, did. He asked that this young Priest be remembered in the prayers, of those in attendance, for success in his future work in Mississippi.

"Parents, relatives and friends are justly proud of one of their becoming a Priest," he added. "This pride should not be allowed to grow old, but should be kept alive by interest, not only in Father's priesthood, but in encouraging and helping native sons and daughters to aspire to the religious life."

The speaker said that the working of God's Providence can be realized in the life of everyone. "Father Green, the son of good parents, was also in God's plan; his home training, his associates, Priests, Brothers and Sisters, friends, remarkably show the hand of God directing the course of Father Green's life as a Priest of God in his native state," he continued.

"The State of Mississippi will be Father's Palestine," he stated. "North Mississippi is comparable to Galilee; Central Mississippi to Samaria; South Mississippi and the Coast to Judea. As another Christ following in the footsteps of the Lord, he will receive a crown of glory also his crown of thorns."

Father Green will leave Bay St. Louis for his post in Pascagoula Friday, May 18.

Dr. F. J. Lizana, veterinarian, will vaccinate horses for sleeping sickness and dogs for rabies next week, Howard F. Simmons, County Agent, announced today. Dr. Lizana has worked out the following schedule: Monday, May 14, Kiln school, 8:00 a.m.; Davidson's store, 9:00 a.m.; Catahoula school, 10:00 a.m.; Leetown school, 11:00 a.m.; Caesar school, 12:00 noon; Salem school, 1:00 p.m.; Flat Top school, 2:00 p.m.; Aaron Academy school, 3:00 p.m.; Joe Jones (Gainesville), 4:00 p.m.

On Tuesday, May 15, they will visit Sellers school, 8:00 a.m.; Deadeaux school, 9:00; Sidney Gariga, 10:00; George Cuevas' store, Fenton, 11:00; Sidney Necaise's store, 12:00 noon; Willie Ladner's at Necaise Crossing, 1:00 p.m. Wednesday, May 16, the schedule includes: K. C. Hall, Bay St. Louis, 8:00 a.m.; Dupaquiers, Washington Road, 9:00; Waveland Depot, 9:30; Clermont Harbor, Ladner's Store, 10:00; Lakeshore school, 11:00; Ed Ladner, Ansley, 12:00 noon; Joe A. Zengaring, 1:00 p.m.; Pearlton, Dean's Store, 2:00; Logtown school, 3:00; Napoleon's Church, 3:30; Thornton Brown, 4:30.

Last year during the late summer, Hancock County lost approximately 30 horses and mules at the time of the outbreak of sleeping sickness, Simmons stated. There is no treatment for an animal after it once takes this disease, but vaccination is the answer. "In addition to protecting your animal by taking advantage of this opportunity, you are helping us to stop undue losses of livestock in Hancock County," he added.

Mrs. F. J. Lizana Seriously Injured

Mrs. Florian J. Lizana Sr., was seriously injured Thursday, May 10, between 9:30 and 10:00 a.m. when the car, driven by her husband was struck by a truck driven by Marshall Piercy of Biloxi, E. E. Klein, County patrolman from Gulfport, stated.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Landon and the County Farm Road, seven miles north of Pass Christian in Harrison County. According to Klein, the truck and car met in the middle of the intersection; Lizana's automobile was completely demolished.

Mr. and Mrs. Lizana were enroute to visit his brother, Dr. Ferdinand Lizana when the accident took place. Mrs. Lizana is suffering a compound fracture of the skull and internal injuries. She was treated at Memorial hospital, Gulfport, and taken to Foundation hospital, New Orleans that evening. Mr. Lizana, who was released from Memorial Thursday evening, suffered from shock and a number of bruises and scratches.

The truck was coming from Long Beach to the Gravel Pit, the patrolman said.

Robert G. (Manny) Hubbard Is A Candidate For Supervisor, Beat 5

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of R. G. (Manny) Hubbard for the office of Supervisor, Beat 5, Hancock County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held August 7, 1951.

To the Voters of Beat 5. Unlike most candidates I am not offering a platform. I hope to be elected Supervisor of Beat 5 on my reputation and past record in public office.

In Waveland, I have just been re-elected for a third term as Alderman of the Fourth Ward. I am now serving my ninth year in office as an active member of one of the most successful and progressive administrations Waveland has ever had. As a member of this Administration, I endeavored to do my part in serving the people well with foresight in the expenditure of public funds.

If elected Supervisor, I will continue to serve the public in the same manner, spending public funds in ways which will benefit the majority of the people.

Charles A. Ladner In Sheriff's Race

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of Charles A. Ladner for Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election to be held August 7, 1951.

To The People of Hancock County, Mississippi. I wish to take this means of announcing my candidacy for the Office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County, Mississippi.

I was born and reared on a farm in Hancock County. I am 44 years old. I am married and have one son that is of military age. I am now living in Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi, having lived here for the past 20 years. Also in making my announcement for the Office of Sheriff and Tax Collector, I sincerely and firmly believe that I am qualified, to serve you, the people, in this position. I assure you, if elected your Sheriff, I will give you an honest and efficient administration equal to none in the past; and that I will work for the benefit of the people and be ready

Lacy A Green Became Priest For The Diocese Of Natchez Saturday

The moment when Most Reverend Bishop Richard O. Gerow imposed both his hands upon him, Reverend Father Lacy A. Green, became a "Priest forever according to the order of Melchise."

In the ordination ceremony which took place Saturday, May 5, at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, the priests followed the Bishop in imposing their hands over the ordained; then the Bishop and all priests raised their right hands and held them extended over the candidate. It was at this moment that he became a Priest of the Diocese of Natchez and received all priestly powers by the imposition of the Bishop's hands.

Father Green, the son of Lacy August Green, Sr., and the late Elizabeth Gutierrez, studied for the priesthood at St. Joseph's Preparatory Seminary, St. Benedict, Louisiana, and the Major Seminary, Notre Dame Seminary, New Orleans. He was born at Lakeshore, Mississippi, June 11, 1925 and attended the county schools until he entered St. Stanislaus College for one year in 1941.

Sunday morning, May 6, at 11 o'clock, the newly ordained priest celebrated his first Solemn High Mass at Our Lady of the Gulf. Monsignor A. J. Gmelch was Assistant Priest; the Reverend William Greene, Deacon; and the Reverend Robert Guste, Sub-Deacon.

The Reverend Josiah G. Chatam, J. C. D., of Jackson, Mississippi, in his sermon, prayed that Father Green will meet all the small and large crosses and the joys of accomplishments as Christ, who first gave the Ministers who held services at the six Hancock County taverns last week and included Rev. James of Roseland Park Baptist Church; Rev. C. G. Wells, pastor Carriere Baptist Church; Rev. Donald Bennett, Associational Missionary; Rev. Ben Landrum, Ozona Baptist Church; Rev. C. B. Saucier, Harmony Baptist Church; Rev. Julian Boutwell, Corinth Baptist Church; Rev. Robert S. Crawford, Santa Rosa Baptist Church and Rev. Robert R. Darby, Nicholson Baptist Church.

The weekend invasion of the pubs, said the minister, followed a Friday night meeting at Santa Rosa Baptist Church. After a session of fellowship, the assembly mapped strategy for their two week end visits to the taverns.

In answer to an ITEM query, Rev. James said that the vice he referred to "was illegal sale of beer and whiskey." He said that bootlegging flourishes in Picayune as well as at the Hancock County taverns. He told the ITEM that he was told of one place in Picayune which had 100 cases of whiskey stored inside during last winter's cold spell. He claims there are other places where anyone can buy whiskey and beer in Picayune. "We intend to do something about these conditions too," said Rev. James.

Saturday night's excursion was made by 19 men, said the minister. Sunday night the ranks had ed to 35.

Before starting their Saturday round of visits, the members of the group spent an hour and a half in discussion and in mapping strategy at Cedar Grove Baptist Church.

We do not desire to publicize our complete plans at this time," Rev. James told the ITEM. "But they are good plans. They are thorough, and we hope they'll accomplish the purpose we have in mind. To abolish bootlegging in this area of Mississippi which is legally dry."

Rev. James said they found the owners of the six taverns they visited "very courteous Saturday night. They turned the place over to us and called all other activity to a halt, while we sang and preached."

"The patrons of the places were respectful," said the minister. "Several responded seriously. We had one and possibly two public professions of faith."

Rev. James estimated that at least 100 patrons were crowded into one of the juke joints where they stopped.

There was a man and his wife at a table," reported the clergyman, "with a girl of seven and a boy of nine. The parents were drinking liquor. Their children had soft drinks. . . . Intoxicated persons were all over the place. . . . One small, puny bulb furnished the light for the entire room—a big one. Most of the patrons here, as in all the places were of the teen age group," said the minister, sadly shaking his head.

On Sunday night, the attitude of the tavern owners had skidded below zero, Rev. James reported. We found outright opposition," he said, a faint smile hovering at the corners of his mouth. "We were met at the door by the proprietor at 'Shorty's Place'. I believe his name is Smith, and that he's supposed to be a justice of the peace is his beat in Hancock County."

"What did he say to you?" asked an ITEM reporter. "He didn't want us to go in," said Rev. James. "Finally he did permit us to enter after we asked again. But he took all of our names down on a piece of paper. He wasn't drunk, but said that he wanted to make the first speech. . . . And he did."

Reporter: "What did he say?" "He wanted to know the purpose of our visit," said Rev. James. "He just kept blowing off, said the minister, 'and didn't say much of anything.' He finally told us we couldn't hold a service and told us not to come back any more on Saturdays or Sundays, but told us we were welcome any other night during the week."

Combat News Suppression With Local - Level Diligence

Suppression of News has a dangerous sound. The American Society of Newspaper Editors represents a cool and intelligent body. When an intelligent organization cites a dangerous trend, all thinking newsmen should listen.

The ASNE, after careful study, declares that there is a growing trend toward "arrogant suppression of news." Their legal advice finds the trend growing in financial dealings between government and citizen, divorce cases, support actions, family relationships, mandatory rules such as those forbidding publication of welfare rolls, regulations concealing actions of state boards and commissions.

The ASNE urges editors to fight news suppression through their columns and "the courts as well, when necessary."

It is all very well to adopt resolutions decrying censorship abroad. When the attacks begin to strike home, the time for action has arrived.

For the grassroots editor, it is all very well to agree with the ASNE and say there is too much censorship in Washington.

But, more to the point, is there censorship in your own town?

James S. Pope of the Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal, who chaired the ASNE freedom of information committee, said his organization would fight suppression of news on every level in this country.

He got right into the argument by taking exception to a statement by the Yonkers, N. Y. city clerk who said that suppression of news there about marriage licenses was the exception, rather than the rule.

Mr. Pope cited figures from the Yonkers Herald-Statesman to show that the clerk issued 123 marriage licenses in January, with only 3 published; and 40 in February, but only 15 for publication.

The question in this case is not one about the number of licenses involved. Democracy would go on if no marriage licenses were publicized.

The argument stems about the question of law. The law gives the public the right to know when licenses are issued. Any withdrawal of this right is a rejection of the people's will. Rejection of the public will is a polite expression covering dictatorial actions.

It may be of little importance, at the time, to accept an official refusal of information to which you—as a local editor—are entitled. But every acceptance is a contribution to the state of mind among officials which ends up with damaging multiplication in later stages.

No honorable editor will be a party to such undermining of American principles. Most practical editors will find a means to defeat the censorship without loss of prestige or more than transient personal cost.—Publishers' Auxiliary, May 5, 1951.

The Impossible Never Happens The Wise Boys Said, but It Did

By BILLY ROSE

Last night at Lindy's a bunch of us were discussing what, for want of a better term, I'll call the inevitability of the impossible. "The most improbable yarn I ever heard," said Deems Taylor, "is the one about a missionary named Renault who was captured in 1948 by a tribe of cannibals in French Equatorial Africa."

"According to a report in the files out at the U.N., just as they were about to roast him over a fire, shish-kebab style, the missionary fell to his knees and asked the Lord to have mercy on his servant, Renault. And when the cannibal chief heard the name, he untied him and told him to go about his business."

"No, it wasn't the prayer that did the trick—it seems that six months before, they had cooked and eaten another gent named Renault and he had turned out to be tough and tasteless."

"I KNOW AN equally implausible story," I piped up. "The one about the clerk in Tacoma, Washington, who was handed five thousand dollars to buy insurance for a bridge that was under construction. The fellow had never stolen a nickel in his life, but this was one temptation he couldn't stand off—what in the name of the five Ringling Brothers could happen to a bridge?"

"Sitting mistle to thought, the clerk went to Reno and blew the whole five grand on a couple of gals, and then, the night before he was due to start back, the Mayor of Tacoma phoned and wanted to know about the insurance. It seemed that the bridge—the famous Gullipig Gorge of the west—had come apart at the seams and fallen into the gorge."

"THE BELIEVE-IT-OR-NOT that tops them all is the one about Charles Oughlan," said Eugene Burr who writes the theatre pieces for Playbill.

"Charles who?" I asked. "Coughlan," said Burr. "The actor who used to play opposite Lily Langtry back in the last century. When he was 50, he bought himself a farm on Prince Edward Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and quit the stage for what he thought was good. A few years later, however, Forbes-Robertson made him a very attractive offer to play Mergutio in a touring production of 'Romeo and Juliet,' and while Coughlan hated to leave the island, he couldn't afford to turn the offer down. In one season he'd earn enough to be able to live comfortably the rest of his life."

"When his neighbors came down to the boat to see him off, the actor assured them that, come heaven or high water, he'd return when his tour was ended. And he did—but it took both heaven and high water, and in that order, to arrange it."

"Heaven got into the act shortly after the tour started—in Galveston he suffered a heart attack and died, and was buried in a cemetery not far from the sea. The high water came a year later, September 8, 1900, when a tidal wave hit Galveston, drowned six thousand people and washed away a good part of the waterfront, including most of the coffins in the cemetery."

"Some months after the disaster, a fisherman on Prince Edward Island went down to the beach one morning to inspect his nets, and found a coffin which had washed up on the sands."

"On it was a brass plate with the name 'Charles Oughlan'—the actor, with an assist from the Gulf Stream, had made good his promise to return."

GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMY

While the war in Korea and the war in the United States between President Truman and General McArthur are catching the spotlight of publicity in the press these days, another thing is happening which is possibly not receiving the attention which it is due. As pointed out in this column on several occasions, a determined effort is being made in the House of Representatives to accept President Truman's challenge and cut his budget estimates. This is no less important than the war in Korea. For, we still maintain that the ultimate hope of the Kremlin is to destroy the economy of this country. As we have repeatedly pointed out both upon the floor of the House and in the public forum, this country cannot, even with all of its wealth and resources, continue to spend many millions of dollars over its annual income without destroying the confidence of the people in their government. The proof of this statement is that there has been a sharp decline in the purchase of Government bonds by the people of the country. In other words the faith of the people in the Government's stability has already been shaken.

Of course, it is realized that we must appropriate the necessary funds for national defense. It is further realized that national defense takes the lion's share of the governmental appropriations. On the other hand, it is realized that cuts can be made in the domestic field. And it is in this area of the budget that those of us in the House, mostly Southern Democrats and Republicans, have operated when the past three appropriation bills have come before the House. These cuts have already run into the billions. And the indications are that before the last appropriation bill has been passed in the House, there may be as much as ten billion dollars cut from the President's budget.

Of course, ten billion dollars saved in appropriations means ten billion dollars less to be extracted from the pockets of the already tax-ridden American taxpayers.

MACARTHUR

The controversy over the Truman, Acheson - MacArthur Asia-Pacific policy continues to rage. The scene has shifted from the House chamber, where the great dramatic general made his history-making speech to the Senate over the Senate caucus room, where the joint committees on Armed Services and Foreign Affairs of that body are hearing both sides of the controversy. Chairman Dick Russell of Georgia (leaved of the Southern Block in the Senate) made a valiant fight to confine the hearing to executive session. But the Senate overrode him and a compromise was worked out whereby the hearings would be opened to all members of the Senate. Anyone who is familiar with Washington knows that information available to 96 Senators or for that matter, an equal number of the members of House, is not long kept secret. As one member expressed it, the Senators are wearing out the carpets running from the secret hearings to the newspaper men on the outside. While we think that Senator Russell is amply justified in his position, both in the interest of protecting military secrets and national unity, so essential in these times of stress, we think it would have been far better to have permitted the hearing to be opened to the present arrangement. For, the public would get a more correct version of what did happen and those high in military set-up, including MacArthur, could have been more on their guard so far as conveying military secrets to the enemy.

So far as we are concerned, we stand on our original position that the President had a perfect right to fire MacArthur. But, MacArthur is undoubtedly correct in his views that we have no definite foreign policy and we have either got to get out of Korea or else adopt some such policy as advocates. For, surely now it must be apparent to all that you can't deal with the Kremlin and that the Kremlin will carry on its policy indefinitely, if permitted, of chasing our boys up and down the Korean peninsula with the resulting terrific losses which now have reached approximately seventy thousand casualties.

Yatch Club News

By: Mrs. F. J. Trastour

This past weekend several fish class races were scheduled with the following winners:

Miss Elvie Socolo, "Pat" Murphy and Malcomb Coward.

Bay-Waveland Yacht Club had a nice representation at the Regatta at the Fairhope Yacht Club last weekend, including Commodore and Mrs. Robert Camors, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Prados, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wynne, Mr. and Mrs. Normand Renshaw, Misses Ann Chapman and June Breath. Our Fish Class Skippers finished about sixth or seventh in the Fish Class Regatta and Cliff Prados won the Lightning race.

This coming weekend, BWYC plays host to the skippers and skipperettes from PCYC in the return Inter-Club Regatta. Our Skipperettes are leading PCYC but our Skippers did not do as well as the "ladies" at PCYC—much interest prevails as to whether or not we can outsalt PCYC this weekend.

The Club has scheduled a dinner and dance this Saturday night, with music by Harry's Orchestra.

The Club has the privilege of serving dinner Saturday and Sunday to the Bishop of the Diocese of Natchez and Catholic Dignitaries from New Orleans and Mississippi on the occasion of the ordination of Rev. Lacy Green, Hancock County boy, who had become a priest, Saturday, May 5.

The Ladies Auxiliary is planning a smorgasbord for May 30, and we are in a treat for extra good things to eat, so be sure and mark the date on your calendar.

The first sailing lessons start Saturday morning, with 20 of the Junior members participating. These lessons will be given by Cliff Prados throughout the summer months.

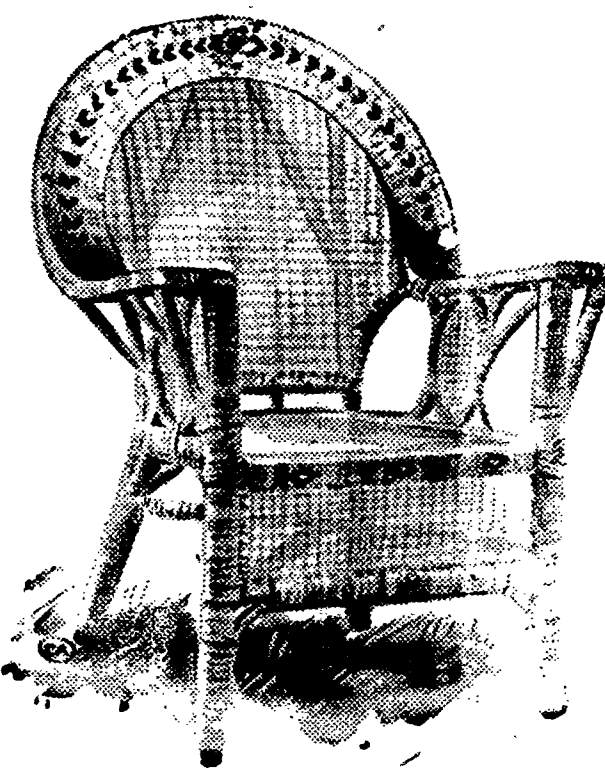

Discuss WMS Objective

At the state convention of the Baptist Women's Missionary Union held in Jackson, recently a WMS Special Day was initiated to be observed annually for the purpose of gaining information and making offerings for designated objectives. The goal set for the state of Mississippi was $10,000.

The objectives named were Relief for Aged Ministers; Margaret Fund (a love offering); Training School and Southside WMU headquarters being built at Birmingham, Alabama.

The first three objectives have been part of the work of the WMS throughout the state, but the latter is their added responsibility.

An interesting program was given at the Special Day service of the local WMS held Tuesday afternoon in the annex of the First Baptist Church. The program was in charge of Mrs. Kenneth Whitfield, program chairman; and the Devotional was given by Mrs. A. H. Gregory. The different objectives were discussed by Mrs. William Morreale, Mrs. T. B. Sellers, Mrs. R. L. Lee and Mrs. Thomas B. Wilson.

Look To The Future

Now that the future location of the proposed bridge over the Bay seems to be established why not look to the future to do the "best we can with what we've got."

So just a thought in passing for what it is worth.

During the period that the new bridge is being built funds by both Counties concerned could be allotted for the future upkeep of the present bridge and approaches. Upon completion this or other means could be established.

1. At the completion of the new bridge the present bridge taken over by Hancock and Harrison Counties.

2. Bridge to be limited to light traffic, a toll equal to the toll charged by the new bridge could be charged, if found necessary.

3. This would divert a certain amount of traffic through Bay St. Louis and the beach section on the other side of the Bay, and greatly benefit the business establishments along the present route.

Uncle Sam Says

"A Pyramid of Cash Savings." It's not alone possible but it can be made a certainty. Your government offers you a proved, sure-fire savings plan that can change your entire life. It's the Payroll Savings Plan for the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds. Ask yourself: "out of all the money I've earned in the past 10 years how much can I show today?" Now look ahead—say to 1961. During these years you can build a pyramid of savings by enrolling for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or if self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank. "Here's to 1961!"

Oil and Gas Development in Mississippi Said Due To Encouragement Given Industry

Cleveland, Miss. — (Special) Mississippi's encouragement of industrial expansion in the state has been to a large degree responsible for the growth of its oil and gas industry, according to J. K. Wright, petroleum engineer, for the Oil and Gas Board.

Addressing a meeting of the Mississippi Academy of Sciences, Mr. Wright stated that since 1939, when oil was discovered in Yazoo county, the industry has expanded until today there are over 1600 producing oil and gas wells in the state.

"This amazing growth has not been just a 'happen-so,'" he said, "several factors have been responsible."

"Because of our nation's need for oil and gas, the industry must continually be on the lookout for new sources of supply. New fields and reserves must be discovered to make sure that in both peace and war we'll never be caught short."

"However, if Mississippi had not offered encouragement to the industry a large part of this expansion might have taken place elsewhere. Oil and gas companies are like all other industrial organizations, they go where conditions are the most favorable for their growth."

Mr. Wright said that enactment of the modern oil and gas conservation law by the 1948 legislature gave assurance that our oil and gas would be produced without waste.

Pointing out the high cost and risk nature of the oil and gas business, Mr. Wright said, "Last year 123 wildcat wells were drilled in the state and only 8 of these found oil or gas in commercial quantities. A ratio of 16 dry holes to 1 producer. Actual drilling costs of these 123 wildcats, not including other costs such as exploratory work and leasing, amounted to over $4 million dollars. That's a lot of money for 120 dry holes."

With reference to employment and payrolls, the speaker said that the oil and gas industry now employs approximately 5,000 men and women and has an annual payroll of around $15 million. All taxes paid by the industry last year amounted to about $10 million.

Though the oil and gas industry in Mississippi is still a "youngster" with the cooperation of the people it will continue to grow and develop and thereby make an even greater contribution to the state's economy, he concluded.

lic Women held their monthly dent's message was read by Miss Jeanne Knost.

Father Lemhkuhl spoke on Secularism, stressing natural and super natural resources. Father said to attend Mass and say a rosary is not sufficient to be a Catholic; practicing Charity, being a good neighbor, and other worthy acts are necessary.

Father explained how Communism has permeated our politics, our Faith and our lives. "We must not be so complacent as to our Faith, but should become militant Catholics, in our daily lives." He stated, "Catholic life is a life to live."

Exam Application Deadline May 15

Deadline for submission of applications for the Selective Service College Qualification Test is May 15, it was announced today by Col. John W. Patton, Jr., State Selective Service Director. Post-card applications from college and university students desiring to take the test must be postmarked not later than midnight May 15.

Colonel Patton stated that the deadline was set to allow the administrators of the test, the Educational Testing Service, time to process applications and inform each applicant where and when he is to take the test. The three testing dates are May 26, June 16 and June 30, all of which are on Saturday. A fourth examination will be held Thursday, July 12, exclusively for students whose religious beliefs prevent them from taking the test on a Saturday.

Students may obtain application cards from any Selective Service local board; they do not have to return home to the local board having jurisdiction over them. To be eligible to take the test an applicant must:

- (1) Be a student who intends to request occupational deferment as a student;
- (2) Be under 26 years old at the time of taking the test;
- (3) Already have begun and intend to continue his college or university studies (the applicant need not be in a 4-year college but his entire course must be satisfactory for transfer of credits to a degree-granting institution).

"Alsobrooks," claimed Rev. James, is supposed to be a constable in his beat in Hancock County. He told us that church houses are the place to preach. I don't want you around here on Saturdays and Sundays anymore. That's my busiest times. Come back any other night of the week. I don't care then."

"One particularly disgusting thing was a drunken woman at the first tavern we visited Sunday night," said Rev. James. "She insulted us and ridiculed our preaching and singing of hymns when we had finished."

The minister said that they recognized her as a woman of this community. He said that many of the patrons in all of the juke joints were residents of Picayune, Garrettsville, Nicholson and all of the communities of this area. Many of them were people the ministers had seen in their churches.

"We found beer, whiskey and all kinds of things in every place we visited," said James, spokesman for the group. "There were slot machines too, and in some places there were other kinds of gaming devices. We don't know whether the gambling equipment belongs to the individual tavern owners, or to a regular gang of professional hoodlums and thugs. But it was in plain sight."

Rev. James said that he believed the crowds were slimmer down at the taverns on Sunday, because word circulated about of the Saturday night excursion. "Many people didn't want their ministers to see them in these bootlegging joints," he said, "so they stayed away."

"We intend," he said, "to continue this 'passive crusade' against vice in the area until it is stopped."

Rev. James told the ITEM later this week that ministers had received reports of effects of their visits to the taverns on several individuals.

The ministers said that one woman called a member of their group Sunday to relate that her husband arrived home early Saturday from one of the taverns.

Another man, said Rev. James, sent for two of the ministers. He had been at the services at one of the taverns.

A third man sent for Rev. James. He told the minister, said Rev. James, "As a result of your services I'll never go down there again, or to any other place like that again."

Rev. James told the ITEM the man had been in one of the taverns where they prayed.

"Rain" Begins At Little Theatre

"Rain" poured at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre Thursday night, May 10.

Somerset Maugham's famous play which invites a fascinating study in different phases of human character, is being presented at the local playhouse by the director, Mrs. Frank Kiefer.

Mrs. Davidson, wife of the minister, as interpreted by Mrs. Carl Kraft, is a smug, self-righteous individual who shudders at the thought of being under the same roof with Sadie Thompson, who was driven out of the "red-light district" of Honolulu.

The Minister's wife lacks the gift of human understanding, that is usually evident in a person of her position, which might easily encourage the girl to change her course. This convinces the audience that Mrs. Davidson falls short of her undeniable purpose.

She creates a stigma surrounding Sadie Thompson which actually does not exist. It is concluded that her motives are activated by her ideas concerning her own marriage.

Other actors and actresses who lend color and atmosphere to the play are Richard Thames, W. W. Smith and Lt. Hollis Hurst as the three, merry fun-loving Marines; Miss Adele Grant, Mrs. MacPhail; doxical reasoning is concerned.

Mr. Davidson is a "saver of souls" while Dr. MacPhail describes himself as being a "saver of bodies." Yet, the Doctor has a better understanding of, and a more lenient attitude toward, the unfortunate Sadie Thompson and pleads quietly for her case. Mr. Davidson proves that no one is infallible by trying to enforce rigid discipline upon her without a spark of human apprehension which should accompany theological inspiration. Realizing his utter failure, he destroys himself.

Resorting to dramatic flexibility Mrs. J. William Hill assumes a native dialect and effects the burnished skin tones of a Polynesian woman. She wears a polished black wig to complete the illusion. Her portrayal of the wife of Joe Horn displays a creditable piece of acting ability.

Other actors and actresses who lend color and atmosphere to the play are Richard Thames, W. W. Smith and Lt. Hollis Hurst as the three, merry fun-loving Marines; Miss Adele Grant, Mrs. MacPhail;

MISS IRMA KENNEY TO GIVE SENIOR PIANO RECITAL MONDAY

Miss Irma Kenney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kenney of Bay St. Louis, will give her senior piano recital at Louisiana State University Monday, May 14.

Miss Kenney, Alpha Omicron Pi's choice as the ideal sorority girl, has "always loved music and wanted to know more of it. Every piece expresses something different and makes you want to learn," she explained in a recent interview with a reporter from the DAILY REVEILLE, campus newspaper.

This talented young native will include "pre-Bach, Chopin and Modern music in her recital.

In 1948 when she transferred from Gulf Park Junior College, she was vice-president in 1949 and president this year, and she will serve as alumnae advisor when she returns to L. S. U. to do graduate work next year.

Miss Kenney, a graduate of St. Joseph Academy in the class of 1946, belongs to the Newman Club and the University chorus. She was sergeant-at-arms and chaplain of Sigma Alpha Iota, music honorary organization. She served on the Student Senate for two years, being president of the School of Music junior class last year and vice-president of the school this year.

After graduation in June, Miss Kenney plans to get her master's degree in piano, studying under Earl Stout. Following this, she says, "I don't know my future then. That's the 64 dollar question."

In answer to questions on music and her favorite composers, she "likes romantic music as it expresses so much. I just try to put myself in someone else's shoes. As for my favorite piece, I like all my recital music but have no exact favorite. Every piece and every composer has something different to say."

Last summer, along with several other L. S. U. coeds, Miss Kenney toured France and Italy. This talented young native will include "pre-Bach, Chopin and Modern music in her recital.

For this is the Chalice of My Blood at the new and everlasting Testament. The Mystery of Faith which shall be shed for you and for all unto the Remission of Sins." These precious words are said by Father Lacy A. Green at the Consecration of his First Solemn Mass Sunday, May 6.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

PLAY FARMERS FOR "SUCKERS"

By HOWARD SIMMONS

Farmers in Mississippi are still being played for "suckers" by unscrupulous chick hatcheries in other states. If you are a prospective chick buyer, read every word of this article and help us combat this racket in diseased and damaged chicks. Look out for illegal sale before you buy.

Our Livestock Sanitary Board is trying to protect chick buyers. Their regulations permit only U. S. Pullorum Passed or Clean quality chicks to be sold in Mississippi. Chicks that do not meet these requirements are illegal for sale in Mississippi; and if sold, are in violation of our state laws. Any chick buyer ignoring this fact is aiding the breaking of our laws, as well as running the risk of bringing diseased chicks into the community.

Some farmers are buying U. S. Pullorum controlled chicks - these have been outlawed by our Livestock Sanitary Board. Chicks of this classification may be from flocks with as many as 19 Pullorum Testers or "Pullorum Free" 1000. Such chicks, if approached by Livestock Sanitary Board representatives, will be seized and destroyed. Such terms as Pullorum Tester or "Pullorum Free" have no meaning.

Play safe - be sure there is a "U. S. Pullorum Passed" or "U. S. Pullorum Clean" label on the chick bag. This means there were no pullorum infected hens in the parent flock. This classification is the only one under which chicks may be sold legally in Mississippi.

Beware of "cheap" chicks, bargain chicks! Many times these chicks are surplus chicks held over without feed and water so long they are damaged. Shipping hazards increase with distance; they may become over-heated or chilled, or too hungry, or be exposed to diseases in shipment.

Chicks hatched right here in the state are a safe buy. They are U. S. Pullorum Passed or Clean. They are produced under the rigid supervision of our Livestock Sanitary Board and the National Poultry Improvement Plan.

Diseased chicks are a source of danger to your community. Do you really want to help? Then be on the lookout for chick peddlers or shipments of illegal chicks. If there is no "U. S. Pullorum or Clean" label on the chick boxes, report it to the Livestock Sanitary Board in the Woolfolk Building, Jackson, Mississippi.

SWEET POTATOES

Farmers are being urged by the department of agriculture to grow the same amount of sweet potatoes this year as they did last. Growers can expect higher prices this year.

Hancock County is especially adapted to the growing of sweet potatoes. The soil and climate are both good and with proper fertilizing sweet potatoes can be produced on a large scale. Gulfport has complete storage, grading, curing, and marketing facilities for potatoes grown in this area.

Commercial canning plants that will use a large quantity of sweet potatoes are located at Laurel, Columbia, Magnolia and Crystal Springs.

There is still time to plant additional acreage of sweet potatoes for commercial production. For best results, highest yields plant as soon as possible, preferably by June 1; however, fair results can be obtained by planting during June.

Frank R. Rea of Wesson was a recent visitor to Bay St. Louis as a guest of his sister-in-law, Mrs. E. P. Kirkpatrick, and Mr. Kirkpatrick at their South Beach home.

Forty-five cities of 10,000 population or more completed 1950 without a traffic death, the National Safety Council reports. The largest was Brookline, Mass., with a population of 57,000.

Methodist Church Honors Miss Dixon

Miss Florence Dixon, who will leave in the near future to make her home in Charlotte North Carolina, was complimented Wednesday by the members of the Methodist Sunday School and Church with a farewell party.

Miss Dixon had been asked by Rev. Oliver, the pastor, to conduct the prayer meeting service; and at the close of the service, Mr. Oliver asked that the group repair to the church annex. There Miss Dixon was presented with an orchid corsage. After the social hour, at which refreshments were served, Mr. Oliver asked Miss Dixon to stand; and with a short complimentary talk he presented her with a Hamilton gold wrist watch from the members of the church.

Mr. Oliver said that Miss Dixon's letter transferring her from this church to another church was one which would be hard to grant for her place in the church would be hard to fill. He said that the church and Sunday school had recognized in her, a fine Christian character and an efficient worker. Miss Dixon accepted the gift with words of deep appreciation.

Miss Dixon, since her residence here has served as district and local officer of the Women's Society of Christian Service and has assisted with programs for the young people. She was also teacher of the Women's Bible class.

Sheep Dipping Operations Begin

The time is approaching for the follow-up dipping of sheep for eradication of sheep scabies. This program was inaugurated in 1948 in 12½ counties under federal quarantine in South Mississippi and is conducted without expense to the flock owners by the State Livestock Sanitary Board in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry. A thorough coverage of all these counties was made during the shearing season of 1950 and it is felt that most sheep were included in the dipping program. Beneficial results following last year's dipping have been obvious, and it is anticipated that the splendid cooperation of flock owners will continue this current season.

Howard F. Simmons, County Agent, urges that flock owners make an "all out" effort to include every sheep in the dipping program this season. This is particularly true of sheep under new conditions. The fact has been established from observations of last year's work that scabies can be eradicated in the quarantined area if all sheep are included in the program.

Several inspectors will be assigned to the area by the Livestock Sanitary Board in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry to supervise and aid in dipping sheep during the shearing season. A notice will be issued in the future of the respective locations of these inspectors; but in the meantime, contacts should be made through the County Agricultural Agent.

Any owners who have established new flocks since last year should report same to the County Agricultural Agent's Office to avoid being missed when the work gets under way. Flock owners who are familiar with the program, and have vats available for dipping sheep, can aid the program substantially by cleaning the vats and making repairs to corrals and holding pens in advance to assembling the sheep for shearing.

LEGION NEWS

At a recent meeting of Clement R. Bontemps Post 139, American Legion, a resolution in regard to General Douglas MacArthur's dismissal as General of the Armies, was proposed and accepted.

A copy of the resolution, as it appears on the minutes of this organization, follows: State of Mississippi Hancock County.

WHEREAS: The Summary dismissal of General of the Armies Douglas MacArthur has brought a drastic change in the military leadership of our Far Eastern Command; and,

WHEREAS: This dismissal was a great shock to the people of the United States, and brought a great deal of dissension; and,

WHEREAS: This Post of the American Legion, being profoundly interested in both military and civic matters, and looked upon by a great segment of this community as one of the outstanding leaders of public opinion in matters such as this; and,

WHEREAS: It is our belief that this Post should go on record, expressing itself in this matter:

Be It Therefore Resolved: That we go on record as expressing our belief that in the summary dismissal of General MacArthur the Far Eastern Command has lost one of the greatest military leaders of all times. It is our belief that such dismissal was unwarranted, and the manner in which it was carried out was not within the principles of justice and fairness in which we, the proponents of democratic thought and action, believe.

We do not wish to enter into any political controversy as to whether General MacArthur's policies were conflicting with the directives he had received from his superiors, however, we do wish to go on record as expressing our complete confidence in General MacArthur, both as a military leader and a patriotic American. We also wish to express our appreciation to the General for his great leadership and his ceaseless and tireless efforts to further the cause of Americanism both in his wartime commands and in his occupation duty in the Far East. We sincerely hope that the General will not, as he stated in his great speech before the Congress, "silently fade away," but will continue in his efforts to further the true principles of democracy.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to General MacArthur and to our Congressional Representatives.

—Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ansley recently were Mr. and Mrs. Jake Van Roo, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Roo, and baby of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Roo are great grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Ansley. The Ansleys also had with them their daughter, Miss Hona Ansley and son, Steel Ansley.

Organizations represented were health, Dr. C. M. Shipp and Wayne Alliston; County Welfare, Mrs. Norton Haas; education, S. L. Ingram, superintendent of city schools; Tyrone Sexton, principal Valena C. Jones school; Sisters Berille and Margarite, St. Rose de Lima school; Genevieve Harrison, Jeanes Worker, Logtown; P. T. A. Col. J. E. Metzger, Logtown; B. R. Nobles, Miss Hilda Beardon, Mrs. Sam Whitfield; Church: Fathers Bryant and Grant; League of Women Voters; Mrs. Paul Miller; City-County library, May H. Edwards; Mrs. J. W. Hill, Jr., Hancock County Eagle; Red Cross, Mrs. Elizabeth Weston and Mrs. J. B. Goldman. There will be a report from the committee on Health on their survey in two weeks; Mrs. McDonald is chairman of the survey being sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

An informative talk was made by Miss Adele Grant, child welfare agent for this county, who told of her work here with children and how their individual cases are handled.

Miss Grant said there are four kinds of homes to which children may be sent. They are the Foster Home, Adopted Home, Free Home and Boarding Home. She explained upon what grounds children are removed from their homes and how they respond. Children from happy homes, where they have had love, are easier to accept the fact that it is necessary to remove them. They are not afraid as children who have been ill treated are. She told how welfare workers determined what disposition to make in cases where it was evident that children were not getting the right care.

Why SPEED to DESTRUCTION

MISSISSIPPI SAFETY COUNCIL

High speed by automobile drivers is not only dangerous to life and property but it has definitely entered the luxury class.

L. P. Sweatt, Gulfport, Mississippi Utility Executive and President of the Mississippi Safety Council today pointed to the increased cost of automobiles, parts, tires, gasoline and oil under today's spiraling cost of living as evidence that excessive speed can no longer be considered an "incidental" expense to the car owner.

"Aside from the hazards of fast driving," Sweatt declared, "even careful, economical driving has reached the highest cost in automotive history. Add to these so-called normal costs the additional wear, tear and increased gasoline and oil consumption created by high speed and the cost to the automotive owner really skyrockets."

Sweatt explained that high speed not only increases the rider's chances of an accident - and the chances of being killed in the event of an accident - but that the "light gain in time is infinitesimal in comparison to the actual dollars and cents less to him."

"If you cruise at a speed of sixty miles an hour," he said, "you'll use about one-third more gasoline than you would at a speed of 40 miles an hour. You'll also use about four times as much oil as you would at 40 miles an hour and will wear your tires out twice as fast. For this hard cash - and the additional risk to your life, you will gain only a few minutes in a day's driving - a poor gamble by anyone's standards."

Sweatt's observations of the physical and economic costs of excessive speed came in connection with the Mississippi Safety Council's current program of traffic safety education.

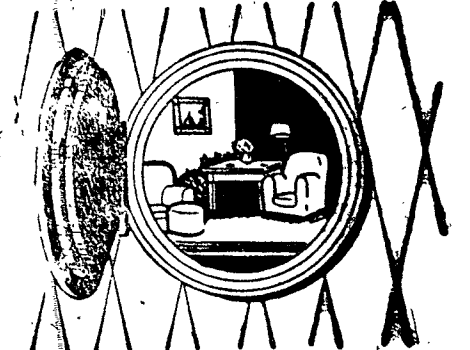

This program which has as its slogan, "Speed Kills - take it easy," is being sponsored in cooperation with the National Safety Council and the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol.

Captain A. S. Windham, Executive Director of the State Safety Council said, "A dangerous number of motorists feel that too fast is some sort of definite speed limit above which the laws of physics determine that a driver cannot be depended upon to have complete control of his car."

Windham said "Actually 'too fast' may be any speed from 10 miles an hour to 100 miles an hour. We cannot just arbitrarily say that 80, 70, 60 or fifty miles an hour is 'too fast' and let it go. That is times and places when 20 miles an hour may be literally - fatal."

The two safety officials said when the added cost of operation is coupled with the jeopardy to life and property, that fast driving and careless driving is a reckless habit that should be corrected. They pledged the services of the Safety Council to all local enforcement agencies in an effort to curb recklessness on the highways of the state.

Richard Mark Smith, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl T. Smith, Jr. was christened at the Main Street Methodist Church Sunday, May 6. Rev. H. Bufkin Oliver officiated. Sponsors were the baby's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Sr.

Good Label Answers Six Questions

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

Mandatory labeling of clothing and foods is that required by law. Grade labeling is voluntarily done by the producer or processor. You have read more about these two kinds of labels in recent columns.

A third kind of label is the informative label. Information labels cover all kinds of labels that convey information to the purchaser. Both mandatory and grade labels really are informative labels.

The consumer, the retailer, and the manufacturer all benefit from informative labeling.

A long time ago when most consumer goods were made right in or near the place they were used, everybody knew the quality of raw material used and the processes of manufacture. As the number of products manufactured grew, it became necessary to identify each by the use of a brand or trade name and to advertise the characteristics of these goods.

As a consumer, you want to know what informative labeling can mean to you. Someone has said that "consumers must have the opportunity to make free and intelligent choices among the goods and services available which are possible only where consumers are given adequate and accurate statements of facts about the quality and performance of the goods and services offered."

The most satisfactory method of communicating information from the manufacturer, through the retailer, to you, the consumer, is a label attached to the product you are buying.

A good label will answer six questions for you. (1) What is the product made of? (2) How is it made? (3) What will it do? (4) How much I care for it? (5) How may I use it? and (6) What is the name and address of the manufacturer or distributor?

Surveys show that where consumers have adequate information supplied them in answer to these six questions that it saves them time in shopping, cuts down the time they must spend in making adjustments and in returning merchandise, increases appreciation of better quality merchandise and cuts down the amount of time spent in shopping from store to store.

The informative label benefits the retail merchant in numerous ways also. If sales people are not completely familiar with the merits of certain goods, an informative label will give the answers. These labels often act as a silent salesman when a clerk is busy or not in sight. Adequate labels also lower the amount of goods returned because of consumer dissatisfaction. This in turn lowers the retail merchant's operating costs and lets him handle a better grade of merchandise.

Only the fly-by-night manufacturer or merchant is afraid of truthful labeling. An honest manufacturer looks upon a label as a most useful merchandising tool.

Some manufacturers are saying, "There is evidence that women are more interested in the quality and use of characteristics of merchandise than they have ever been before. Retailers are finding it to their advantage to supply their customers with this information. Other things being equal, retail sales people, bombarded with questions by consumers, will push the product about which they have the most information."

Weekly News Letter

By W. F. Bond, Commissioner State Department of Public Welfare

The members of the County Welfare Boards in each county, meet once a month in the office of the county welfare agent to advise with the agent as to what is the best thing to do for the public welfare program of the county. They receive no salary and give of their time freely. Coming from different parts of the county, together they are acquainted with the needs and circumstances of practically every person in the county. Not only do they advise in the matter of those applying for public assistance but outside their line of duty they help get services for crippled children, those in need of special health services and, in fact, anyone in need for whom service of some kind is available if brought to the attention of the proper authorities. They are in a good position to interpret the welfare program to the public in general. This group of 410 persons, serving without pay in the public welfare program of the State, is worthy of the cooperation and good will of all of us.

Deadline Nears On G. I. Training

The July 25 deadline for starting or re-entering GI courses of education and training for most World War Two veterans is less than three months away, Bob de Kay, State Veterans Affairs Commissioner warns veterans.

That date, established by law, should be kept in mind by World War Two veterans making plans for schooling or training at Government expense. This coming Summer Term, for example, will be the last during which most veterans will be permitted to enter or re-enter GI Bill training.

A veteran actually must be in training by the deadline if he wants to continue afterwards. The VA will consider him in training, even though he has temporarily interrupted his course for the summer vacation or for other reasons beyond his control, such as re-entry into military service.

Once he completes or discontinues his program of training after the cut-off date, he may not start another course.

Also, he must meet these requirements:

He will be expected to pursue his training "continuously" until completion, except for conditions which normally would cause interruption by any student.

He may change his educational objective "only while in training and then for reasons satisfactory to the Administrator."

The July 25 cut-off date applies to World War Two veterans discharged before July 25, 1947. Veterans discharged after the 1947 date have four years from the date of discharge in which to begin GI Bill training. Most veterans in both groups, however, must finish training by July 25, 1956, wind-up of the program.

An exception has been made for those who enlisted or re-enlisted under the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act (between October 6, 1945, and October 5, 1946). Those veterans have four years from the end of their enlistment or re-enlistment period in which to start training, and nine years from that time in which to complete it.

FLIGHT INTO TOMORROW

Forests are different from other natural resources. They grow, and because they grow, forests will replace themselves. Symbol of their growth is the seed, different on each tree, yet the same in life-beginning power.

A seed dropped by a forest tree begins a long and important journey into our future. Nurtured by the forest soil, it sprouts as a seedling tree. Given room to grow—if not crowded by mature trees ripe for use—it will grow rapidly. Protected from fire and other destructive agencies, it has a commercial value in 15 to 30 years. Permitted to reach an age of 50 to 75 years, it may become a high-quality commercial tree. But the journey is not over when it has been cut to make room for the seedlings to which it has given life. As wood—essential raw material of more than 4,000 important uses—it begins the work for which its growth prepared it.

The forest industries of America, which know the productive powers of our woodlands, encourage the growing of trees as a crop. They advocate proper management of our woodlands. By such means, the third of America which consists of forest lands may continue to grow tree crops forever.

Cecil McCaleb and John McCurdy Reign Over Bay Hi May Festival

Cecil McCaleb and John McCurdy reigned at the Bay Hi May Festival in the gymnasium Friday night. Irma Joan Lee and Billy Clapp were maid and duke of honor.

The theme of the festival, "Hearts and Flowers," was carried out in the stage decorations. The steps to the stage, behind a white picket fence, were enclosed in tall artificial plants with vari-colored flowers in bloom. The back of the stage was finished in three large hearts with the royal seal in front of the center one and the duke and maid stood before the heart on either side.

The queen wore a dress of white marquisette made with a bodice of lace and an overskirt of the material with a deep ruffle of lace; the full skirt fell gracefully to the floor. She wore a mantle of embroidered organza finished with a double ruffle; at the end of the train was a large heart, outlined in red roses and fern. The train was finished at the neck with a Medici collar. Her crown was of red roses and she carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses tied with red ribbon. Her flower girls' dresses were similar to hers and they carried the same flowers.

The maid of honor wore a dress of green tulle over taffeta, fashioned with an off the shoulder neckline. The peplum ended in a panel at the back, extending to the hem of the dress, which was trimmed with silver glitter and silver thread in the ruffling. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and white lilies. Two orchids formed her headpiece.

The flower girls were dressed in the same shade and material as they carried old fashioned bouquets of the same flowers. Entertainment for the Court consisted of acrobats, Gail Bando, waltz, Beverly Miller, vocal, "Deep in My Heart, Dear" by Janelle McLain; Pizzicato Polka by Carol Horton; Sweet and Lovely and Artist's Life—Girls Chorus accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Carl Smith.

Maids: Myra Seal, Cherrie Ann Green, June Breath, Mary Lou Sciana, Sue Smith, Margie Schultz, Bettie Jean Morris, Helen Ruth Moran, Pansy Parker, Trinity Church Guild No. 1 held its regular meeting on Monday, May 7, 1951.

Mrs. Taylor opened the meeting with the usual prayers of the Auxiliary and many matters of importance were disposed of. Reports were given on the district meeting which took place on April 29, 1951. The meetings were held in Trinity Church but the luncheon was served by the ladies of the Guild in the Parish House. There were more than 125 members present.

The program was turned over to three young ladies who gave a joint report on their attendance at the Youth meeting held in Laurel on May 4th, 5th and 6th, 1951. These young ladies expressed themselves as having had a wonderful time as everyone in attendance at the meeting had been kind and helpful towards them. They were Misses Susie Moffitt, Jane Pugh and Nancy Robinson.

After the closing prayer, the meeting adjourned and during the social hour which followed, refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. Wilfred Gack and Mrs. J. B. Witherspoon.

Circle No. 2 of Trinity Guild of the Trinity Episcopal church held a meeting Monday, which was opened by the President, Mrs. Paul Torgeson.

The Circle heard a report presented by Misses Susie Moffitt, Nancy Robinson and Jane Pugh on the youth meetings held in Laurel.

Mrs. Willis G. Clark read passages and discussed the prayer book.

The Guild discussed plans to present a gift of luggage to their "adopted orphan" who is graduating from All Saint's College this Spring. The Guild has been active in providing her schooling and the luggage gift will prove extremely useful in their "orphans" future plans which include going in nurses training.

Circle No. 2 will give a Samsonite train case and an overnite convertible case and Circle No. 1 will present a lovely Samsonite pullman case to the young lady.

Mesdames Agnes Sprinkle and Ada Ripley served as hostesses for the meeting.

ROTARY MEETS
The Pass Christian Rotary met Tuesday noon in the dining room of the Miramar Hotel.

Bill Robinson presented an interesting talk concerning the highway bridge and Floyd Brainerd reorted on the current Boy Scout drive. The scouts went over the top in their funds campaign.

Visiting Rotarians included Mr. C. A. Hall, retiring president of the Coffeyville, Kansas, Rotary Club; Mr. George A. Mullendane, of Magnolia, Miss.; and Dr. J. A. Evans, Dr. B. L. Ramsey, and Mr. John Bell, of the Bay St. Louis Rotary.

Mr. Hall was called upon to present a brief talk on his home town and to tell how a town-ship was given such an unusual name. According to Mr. Hall the town was named after a pioneer resident by the name of Coffey.

Mr. Hall told about the point of interest of the town including the fact that Wendal Wilkie had spoken at the college and that Mr. Johnson, outstanding baseball player, was born there.

He also spoke about the famous Dalton Boys telling of their hold ups of the banks at Coffeyville and describing the end of their notorious career of crime when four were killed and one of the outlaws arrested, and sent to prison.

In conjunction with the pre-school Round Up the P.T.A. of the Pass Christian Public School has prepared the following letter for publication in the Sea Coast Echo as a reminder to parents with children of school age:

May 9, 1951
Dear Parents:
As it is again time to arrange our pre-school examination of children who will be entering school for the first time this fall, we are planning to have a physical examination for these children at the health center on May 16, 9:30 A. M. It will be appreciated if all children who will be entering school will be accompanied by their parents so that the attending physician may discuss the child's physical condition with the parents.

Any parents desiring further information concerning the round-up may contact either Mrs. Van Landingham, Fred Holcomb, Geo. McDonald, or Warren Adam, who are serving on the committee handling the project.
